July – September 2003

The National Industrial Security Academy is a Centre of Excellence in industrial security and fire safety management. It is the premier training institution of the Central Industrial Security Force, engaged in organizing basic induction training and other professional and specialized courses for officers and men of CISF, police officers and corporate executives. The Mission of the Academy is to produce professionals in the field of industrial security management.

INDEPENDENCE DAY CELEBRATIONS OF NISA

The 57th Independence Day was celebrated at NISA campus with unprecedented fervour and gaiety. The National Flag was unfurled by Shri P V K Reddy, IPS, Director, NISA at 0800 hrs on 15th August, 2003 and the ceremony was attended by the whole NISA family including trainees. In his address the Director remembered the ideals, principles, values and dreams of our freedom fighters and the sacrifices they made in their struggle against the British to free us from the yoke of colonial rule. He reiterated the need to rise above sectarian differences of religion, linguistic and regional diversities and to promote harmony and spirit of brotherhood to protect our nation from internal and external aggressions. He emphasized the need for character building along with professional excellence for all those who are undergoing training at NISA, and through dedicated service face all the challenges the country is facing from extremist elements emanating from both across the border and internally.

The Director informed the audience that CISF has also emerged as the major player in the Security Market by offering its consultancy services to private sectors based on its unparalleled professional expertise in installation security. The Director, NISA also mentioned that NISA had taken up the challenge of Disaster Management training and in February – 2003 we have deployed a special disaster response unit for the Aero India Show which is the First such specialized deployment of its kind in the country.

He reminded the NISA faculty that they have a major role to play in producing professionals in the field of Industrial Security Management by shaping the right attitude and imparting the latest knowledge and skills to all Force personnel. He called upon each one of the audience and asked them to shed negativity from their minds and develop it in a holistic manner and dedicate themselves to the service of the nation. Director, NISA also announced that Shri P Prabhakaran, Assistant Commandant of this Academy had been awarded the President's Police Medal for Distinguished Service. He wished all present the best in their quest for personal and professional excellence.

SADHBHAVANA DIWAS

During the celebration of "Communal Harmony Fortnight" from 20.08.2003 to 05.09.2003, Sadhbhavana Diwas was observed at this Academy on 20th August, 2003. Director, NISA administered pledge to the officers and men of NISA & FSTI including trainees at 0945 hrs at NISA Main Parade Ground. A Communal Harmony March was conducted on 30.08.2003 from NISA to Durgah through Singaypally village and back, in which 116 NISA staff including officers and 567 trainees participated. A debate competition was also held on 30.08.2003 during this fortnight.

FIRST COURSE FOR IAF OFFICERS

A capsule course on Installation Security, Intrusion Detection Systems & IEDs for IAF(P) Officers was conducted at the Academy from 21st July, 2003 to 26th July, 2003. 17 Squadron Leaders from various units of Indian Air Force have participated in this course. The course was inaugurated by Shri P V K Reddy, IPS, Director NISA on 21.07.2003. In his welcome address he emphasized the need for security managers to familiarize with technological advances in the field of security systems. IEDs with their immense variability and damage potential still remain the biggest security threats of modern times if used for attack in urban areas by terrorists. The Director NISA vindicated that the knowledge of IEDs is therefore imperative for all security personnel. He wished all the participants a pleasant stay at NISA and to utilize the knowledge they get at NISA for achieving optimum security of the installations they are serving.

Another capsule course on Installation Security, Intrusion Detection System & IEDs for IAF(P) Senior Non-Commissioned Officers was conducted at the Academy from 22nd September, 2003 to 27th September, 2003. 20 Senior Non Commissioned Officers from Indian Air Force participated in the course from all over India.

3rd DISASTER MANAGEMENT COURSE

A course on Disaster Management for District Level Officials was organised at NISA from 14.07.2003 to 19.07.2003. A total of 21 officers attended the course from various parts of the country. The course was inaugurated by Shri P V K Reddy, IPS, Director, NISA. Inputs were provided on concepts of Disaster management, disaster prevention, sustainable development, multi agency coordination, contingency planning, vulnerability assessment, rescue and relief operations, information management and knowledge engineering in disaster management.

In his inaugural address Shri P V K Reddy, IPS Director, NISA said that Disaster Management is a multi-dimensional subject of seminal importance across the world. Disaster Management is an important agenda in the governance of a modern welfare state like India. While most of the natural disasters can not be prevented they can nevertheless be managed to mitigate the extent and scope of losses both in human and economic terms. Vulnerability assessment and emergency preparedness are thus vital aspects of disaster management. The success of disaster management will in the ultimate analysis depend on the degree of inter-agency coordination, quality of infrastructural resources, quality and availability of health services, quick and prepared action of police and armed forces in addition to general competence and sensitivity of administration and political leadership. He wished that the participants would utilize the knowledge imbibed during the course in real life situations, if such situations arise.
